	Barbados is the eastern-most Caribbean island. It is located at 13.4N, 54.4W. The island, which is less than one million years old, was created by the collision of the Atlantic crustal and Caribbean plates, along with a volcanic eruption. Later coral formed, accumulating to approximately 300 feet. It is geologically unique, being actually two land masses that merged together over the years.
	Barbados is a relatively flat island with an abundant supply of large gradually sloping beaches fringing the land. In some areas, notably the North, coral and sandstone cliffs rise straight out of the sea reaching several hundred feet in height. In the South West, cliffs of 50 to 100 feet rise and fall along the coast, separated by small sandy beaches and bays. On the flatter South West and West coasts, you may walk for miles along unbroken white sand beaches, sometimes stopping at a cluster of coral rocks jutting out to sea. All along the shore large and small beaches are broken by coral formations, the soft coral rocks weathered by the ocean surf, forming abstract sculptures to an artist's eye.
	Barbados (pronounced baarbey'dows) situated just east of the Caribbean Sea, is an independent island nation in the western Atlantic Ocean. At roughly 21° North and 87° West, the country lies in the southern Caribbean region, where it is a part of the Lesser Antilles island-chain. Its closest island neighbors are St. Vincent and St. Lucia to the west. To the south lies Trinidad and Tobago—with which Barbados now shares a fixed official maritime boundary—and the South American mainland, Barbados's total land area is about 430 square kilometers (166 square miles), and is primarily low-lying, with some higher regions in the island's interior. The organic composition of Barbados is thought to be of non-volcanic origin and is predominantly composed of limestone-coral formed by subduction of the South American plate colliding with the Caribbean plate. The island's climate is tropical, with constant trade winds off the Atlantic Ocean serving to keep temperatures mild. Some more undeveloped areas of the country contain tropical woodland and scrubland. Other parts of the interior which contribute to the agriculture industry are dotted with large sugarcane estates and wide, gently sloping pastures, with many good views down to the coast.
	Barbados is often spared the worst effects of the region's tropical storms and hurricanes during the rainy season as its far eastern location in the Atlantic Ocean puts it just outside the principal hurricane strike zone, and one only hits about every 26 years. It is geologically composed of coral (90 m/300 ft thick). The land falls in a series of "terraces" in the west and goes into an incline in the east. Most of Barbados is circled by coral reefs.
	Barbados is known for two pirates of the Caribbean - Sam Lord and Stede Bonnet.
	Sam Lord must have been one of the most unusual pirates of the Caribbean! Rather than taking to the seas Sam Lord found a unique, and very profitable, way to plunder ships in the Caribbean. Legend has it that Sam Lord hung lanterns in the coconut trees on the beach near his castle to attract ships. Captains mistook the lanterns for 1	the lights of the capital city and wrecked their ships on the reefs. Sam Lord, one of the most creative pirates of the Caribbean region, would then plunder the ships! Known as the pirate gentleman, Stede Bonnet became one of the pirates of the Caribbean in a most unusual way! A retired British army major and well off plantation owner in Barbados, the middle aged Major Stede Bonnet suddenly turned to piracy in early 1717 and actually purchased his own pirate ship, an unheard of act among the pirates of the Caribbean! Bonnet sailed his pirate ship "Revenge" off the New England Coast, capturing and burning several ships, before returning to the Caribbean. Here he befriended perhaps the most famous of the pirates of the Caribbean - Blackbeard! The friendship quickly changed as Blackbeard took over Bonnet's ship before the 'pirate gentleman' once again took charge. This unusual Caribbean pirate was eventually captured and sentenced to death. He was hung for piracy at the end of 1718.

	Sometimes known as "the England of the tropics", Barbados is famous for its miles of fantastic pink and white sand beachesand rightfully so. The soft sand and palm trees form the backdrop for the clear waters of the Caribbean Sea that have underwater visibility of 100 feet for most of the year making the island a popular snorkeling destination. Steeped with colonial history, the buildings of the islands capital, Bridgetown, hearken back to the days when the British ruled the island and, although Barbados is still part of the Commonwealth, it is showing signs of a move towards independence. But truthfully, not many people travel to Barbados for a history lesson; the beaches are why visitors return again and again. Come and see for yourself.
	The cruise pier is in Bridgetown in the South Western corner of the island and can accommodate 5 ships. It is a very long pier and large enough that shuttle buses are needed to transport cruisers to the terminal. There are a few nice shops and taxis across the street from the cruise terminal after you exit. Actor Tom Selleck owns a home in Barbados. Singer Rihhanna is a Barbados native. Rate of exchange: the US$1 = BDS$2. To figure US dollar costs; divide the
	TRANSPORTATION
	There are three bus systems running seven days a week (though less frequently on Sundays), and a ride on any of them costs $1.50 BBD. The smaller buses from the two privately-owned systems (route taxis or " ZRs " and " minibuses ") can give change; the larger blue and yellow buses from the government-operated Barbados Transport Board system cannot. Most routes require a connection in Bridgetown. Some drivers within the competitive privately owned systems are reluctant to advise persons to use competing services, even if those would be more suitable.
	Public Transport : Barbados has a cheap and extensive public transport system . All fares to any destination are BD$ 1.50 .Public transport buses run from 5:00AM till Midnight. You need to have the exact fare ready when boarding. If you are not sure where to disembark, ask the driver when you step onto the bus. Government-owned buses are blue with yellow trim. They run all the main routes at regular intervals. If you wish to travel from the West Coast to the South Coast or vice-versa you need to catch the "by-pass" bus marked "Speightstown-Oistins". These run every half hour. http://www.transportboard.com/index.php: interactive bus schedules and routes Minibuses that are yellow with blue trim are privately owned. They do not have an L	in all provide the second and all provide the second and the secon exact schedule, but run frequently.

Route Taxis are small mini-vans and are white with a maroon stripe and run frequently, especially along the South Coast.
The yellow LOUD Caribbean music playing buses take US dollars, the government-owned blue with yellow trim buses only take their bus tokens or Barbados money.
Transport on the island is good, with 'route taxis', called "ZR's" (pronounced "Zed-Rs" not "Zee-Rs"), travelling to most points on the island. These small buses/vans can at times be crowded, but will usually take the more scenic routes to destinations. They generally depart from the capital Bridgetown or from Speightstown in the northern part of the island. These kamikaze drivers speed up and down the main thoroughfares, honking their distinctive horns, passengers piled to the roof, swaying to the sounds of loud reggae—you can't ask for a better roller coaster ride!
Competition for patrons extends to the bus terminals (sometimes just a parking lot full of buses) Some hotels also provide visitors with shuttles to points of interest on the island from outside the hotel lobby. The island also has plenty of taxis for hire, though they can be expensive.
Taxi drivers and tour operators are VERY pushy; there are many many stories about cabbies tricking tourists into taking routes/tours they didn't want or talking them out of going to beaches they wanted to go to by lying about the facilities or beach conditions; it is recommended that you walk past the pier gates and hail a local cab driver outside the pier fence instead.
There are no street signs to speak of in Bridgetown and combined with traffic jams; that could make your trip much longer than the miles would indicate—especially the trip back to the ship could be much longer than your morning trip away from the ship!
Many roads on the island are unmarked or poorly marked—take a compass as nearly all roads in Barbados run N-S or E-W. While a coastal road encircles the island, once inland, it is very easy to get lost.
Visitors also have the option of transport by car, presuming that they have a driver's license (issued in their native country). There are several locally-owned and - operated vehicle rental agencies in Barbados but there are no multi-national carrental agencies such as Avis, Europcar or Hertz. Rental agencies will take you to the nearest Cop Shop and register your driving license for $5 (good for one year). The Collision Damage Waiver (CDW) is optional. The cost of a local driver's permit is BDS$10.00 (US $5) and it is valid for 1 year. BDS$500 fine for not wearing seatbelts.

	BEACHES
	All the beaches are public (not the chairs, tables or umbrellas!) Properties which front onto a beach may own to the high water driftline mark only. Many of the properties must provide a public right of way across their land to the ocean. Nudism is illegal in Barbados. Generally the seas on the West coast are the calmest but good safe swimming is available along the South West and the South beaches that touch the Caribbean Sea. South beaches will have gentle waves for body surfing and buggy boards. The and North coasts meet the Atlantic where huge waves crash along the shore and coral reefs. This coast is not recommend for swimming except in a few protected bars. Vendors are not permitted to roam the beach and set up shop out of a carrying case.

	Bottom Bay: Tucked away on the south coast, not easy to find; past the Crane Beach and Sam Lord's Castle is Bottom Bay, a wide expansive beach with smooth rolling waves riding onto the shore. The beach is semi enclosed by high coral cliffs, providing a panoramic view of the south shore. The scene is completed by the presence of tall palm trees that add to the peaceful and relaxing atmosphere of the bay; alwalys a popular picnic spot, it is also becoming a popular place to live and a number of homes are being built on the tops of the cliffs overlooking the beach and ocean; people who live there report spotting turtles and whales in the waters below the rocks; bathing here is not recommended, as the waves are very strong, and great care should be shown by those who choose to do so; no chairs, nor bars, no restaurants; go in a group http://www.barbados.org/botbay.htm shopping area and ends at the Hilton Hotel. Showers, changing room for public; Boatyard Beach is on Carlisle.

	Cattlewash: Located on the East Coast of Barbados, Cattlewash offers a splendid landscape. With its salubrious climate and fresh breezes, it is an area well known as one of the best health resort areas in Barbados and indeed the Caribbean. Cattlewash is said to have derived its name from the cattle wading into the sea there! The area is a very popular get-away spot for Barbadians, especially during the summer months. Although it is a very scenic and relaxing area, there are U
	strong currents in the area and swimming in open water is not recommended. There are however many pools, surrounded by rocks where one can bathe safely.

	Crane Beach , eastern end of island; nice beach to get away from it all; originally a harbor, is considered by many to be one of the island's most beautiful beaches. In fact, "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous" rated it as "one of the ten best beaches in the world"! The name "Crane" was derived from the large crane situated at the top of the cliff which was used for loading and unloading ships. The Crane Resort & Residences, standing on the steep cliff above the beach, has been a favorite with honeymooners since it opened in 1867. In the gardens of the Hotel you will find the magnificent Grand Jete Statue . Crane Beach Hotel $12 for chair, towel, etc.; beach access is through the hotel and down about 200 steps; access the beach below the hotel and walk the rocks to get to public beach or pay hotel to use their access and apply the charge to drinks or lunch. http://www.thecrane.com/ http://www.thecrane.com/crane_resort/aboutus/lunch_menu.asp

Mullins Beach and Gibbes Bay: Try going further north along our West Coast, to Mullins Beach, where there is a Beach Bar and where you'll find reefs off the headlands on either side of the bay Incidentally, that's the pattern all along the West Coast: reefs off the headlands, between the sandy bays. Of course you'll find reefs on headlands all along the coast, but you won't have the convenience of a beach bar nearby. If I were you, I'd head for Mullins, set up camp to the South of the beach bar (that'll be to the left, as you stare out to sea!) and then take a walk maybe a few hundred yards further South again, heading for Gibbes Bay which is less frequented by tourists than Mullins (Gibbes has no beach bar, that's why!) - but the snorkeling should be nice. Maybe you can start your snorkeling at Gibbes and work your way back Northward, in the direction of 'camp' at Mullins.
Ocean Park: south coast; aquarium with stingrays, sharks, moray eels, spiny lobsters; feeding demonstrations, touch pools, living reef display, mangrove swamp and freshwater falls; adjacent miniature gold course.

their daily lives. In this tropical haven, no day is like the other. Take a walk through the shady paths and discover for yourself the mystery of the world Green Monkey. A rare sight outside of West Africa, the Barbados Green Monkey has saved hundreds of thousands and is responsible for 70% of the Worlds Polio Vaccine. To see this charming, funny and fascinating animal take the Adventure Safari into the interior, into some of the most beautiful locations in Barbados, many of which are only accessible by 4x4 vehicles. See interesting sights such as, the Scotland District on the East Coast, where the views and scenery will leave you breathless. Quite simply if you haven't seen the East Coast you really havent seen Barbados. This tour departs in the afternoon only in order to be in the Reserve at feeding time for the Monkey Encounter. Note: During breeding season, the Green Monkey may enter the Wildlife Reserve later than normal. To counter this behavioral pattern, the tour itinerary is reversed. The minimum age required to take this tour is 5 years of age and the maximum weight is 250 pounds. This tour is not recommended for pregnant guests or guests with limited mobility

4 x 4 Adventure Safari & Paradise Beach – RCCL $$9 adult $39 child 3 hours: The 4x4 convoy will drive through the Fisherpond Sugar Cane Estate and Coffee Gully and Holetown, A stop is made at Bathsheba for refreshments and snacks. You'll have time to swim and relax at Paradise Beach. Not recommended for guests with back or heart problems. Discover the natural beauty of Barbados hidden in the countryside and away from the normal tourist areas. Your driver will take you though the interior of Barbados, which for the most part is inaccessible to other forms of transport. The 4x4 convoy will wind its way through the greenery of Fisherpond Sugar Cane Estate and Coffee Gully after which you will witness a panoramic view of the Atlantic Surf pounding the Eastern Coastline. For refreshments a stop is made at Bathsheba where participants have the opportunity to see the island's most hidden bays and best kept secrets. After Bathsheba, the convoy takes you off-road again for exciting thrills traveling downhill into Cattlewash, all the while viewing miles of beach and beautiful coastline. The emphasis is on fun but the drivers give a continuous commentary on the history, culture and folklore of Barbados. You will pass Holetown where the first settlers landed in 1627 before arriving at Paradise Beach. You'll then have forty-five minutes to have a drink and cool off in the Caribbean blue waters.
